Happy 2017!

WOW! Another year has passed and boy has it been a full year.

The biggest news and saddest is that we lost a great woman this year. Mark's mom passed away on the 5th of August. Not one day goes by that we don't think about her.

Mark has a big change this year. He is going to Germany for a new job. He is very excited to start this adventure. Max will be going with him but Heather and Kaitlyn will be staying behind so Kaitlyn can finish high school. Heather will also be using this time to complete some other ultrasound registries for her job. Michael will be staying to finish college.

Loving wife, mother and grandmother.

Have a great year!

Mark, Heather, Michael, Kaitlyn and Max

The Einreinhof's

Skye
A great dog, companion and world traveler.

Michael

Michael is still attending USU. This year he has decided to join the AFROTC. We are excited to see where that adventure takes him. He seems to be enjoying school and is studying hard. He thought about changing majors because of all the calculus but decided to stick with it.

Kaitlyn

Kaitlyn had a major injury this summer at soccer camp.

She tore her ALC and meniscus. She has been unable to play soccer or ballet but is making great strides in her recovery and will be stronger going back due to all the extra strength classes, soccer skill training and physical therapy she is doing.

Max

Max is still active in cub scouts, hockey and soccer. He might be rethinking hockey if the games stay at 7am!! We hope he can continue hockey and soccer in Germany. We know he can continue cub scouts but finding hockey and soccer in English might be a bit hard. He might need to learn German fast!

Koda

Sadly we have only Koda left. Skye was put to sleep in June, her body just couldn't keep up with what her mind wanted to do. Koda is still enjoying trying to catch the deer. We also started to foster cats and kittens from our local shelter. Koda does very well with the kittens.
